He held a public sale last week and left with his family Saturday morning for his new home. He has rented his farm here and has purchased an irrigated farm near Filer.

How to Bankrupt the Doctors.

A prominent New York physician says, "If it were not for the thin stockings and thin soled shoes worn by women the doctors would probably be bankrupt." When you contract a cold do not wait for it to develop into pneumonia but treat it at once. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is intended especially for coughs and colds, and has won a wide reputation by its cures of these diseases. It is most effectual and it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

ANSWER THE CALL

North Platte People Have Found That This is Necessary.

A cold a strain, a sudden wrench. A little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spills of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A splendid remedy for such attacks. A medicine that has satisfied thousands is Doan's Kidney Pills a special kidney remedy.

Many North Platte people rely on it. Here is North Platte proof.

August Ackerman, 221 So. Walnut St., North Platte, Neb., says: "I still hold a very high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them for backache, caused by disordered kidneys and had the best of results. It is over three years since I have had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills, but my health has been fine since, not a symptom of kidney trouble having bothered me."

For Sale by all dealers. Price 50c Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for United States.

Woman's Love of Jewels.
Even in the stone age woman was fond of jewels. But it was man, the brutal monster, who wore them. The heavy necklace that descended upon his breast was the emblem of his superiority and power. Even before he had progressed so far as to cover himself with the skin of the stag he wore a necklace of shells, of teeth of animals or glittering flint. The elegant dame or demoiselle who rolls by in her limousine is not so distant a relative of the cave man as she may try to appear. She likes jewels better than dress since each season we see her more and more bejeweled and less and less clothed. The joy of jewels is of the same infantile quality with the coquette of today that it was in the early barbaric times—a thread of metal upon which are strung some shining pebbles, a thread of silk over which are placed some small round concretions of lime found rolling in the liquid of a diseased oyster!—Le Bresle Economique.

Power of a Great Wave.
The remains of an excursion steamer may be seen in a hayfield 300 feet above the lake of Loen, in Norway. This oddly placed wreck is the sole relic of a terrible landslide which took place in 1906, when the whole side of a mountain suddenly slipped into the lake, raising a great wave more than 300 feet high, which drowned everybody living along the shores, more than sixty people perishing. The steamer, which was moored on the lake at the time, was carried on the crest of the wave over a perpendicular cliff and deposited, as already stated, more than 300 feet above the normal level of the water, more than a quarter of a mile away from its anchorage. It is a torn and battered wreck, every bit of woodwork has been wrenched off, and the twisted steel work testifies to the force of the wave which cast it ashore.—Wide World Magazine.

Bumped the Bishop.
Bishop Montgomery once enjoyed the strangest of episcopal rides. While traveling in China he covered forty-five miles in two days in a wheelbarrow. "Bishop Scott and I," he writes, "were on one barrow; Lanchester followed on a second, the luggage in a third. We did it luxuriously, with three men to each barrow—one in front, one behind on the handles and a third with a rope in front of all. Are there springs to the barrow? Certainly not. It would be no fun if there were. Bumps? Of course. On the first day we calculated we had 25,000 of them—the best were caused by drops of six inches or more from one stone to another. I got quite used to them and found I could sleep stretched luxuriously on my mattress."

The Game of Golf.
On the notice board of a Liverpool golf club, says the Liverpool Post, appear the following verses typewritten on the club notepaper:

Swat the ball and walk a mile.
Swat the ball. It's worth your while.
Walk a mile and swat the ball.
Walk some more. Nor is that all.
Swat the ball and walk—what then?
Swat the ball and walk again.
After that you walk and—what?
Once again the ball you swat.
Swat the ball and walk still more.
Keep on swatting as before.
When as far as this you've got
Swat and walk, then walk and swat.
Golf, of course, has been defined as a good walk spoiled, and a low comedian once described the game thusly: "You hit a ball as far as you can, and if you find it the same day you have won."

Kean's Suggestion.
When Charles Kean was playing the part of Richard the Third his fearful grimaces almost frightened the other actors out of their wits. One night a new man took the character of the sentinel who awoke Richard. When asked, "Who is there?" he should have taken up the cue with the words: "Tis I, my lord. The village clock hath thrice proclaimed the hour of morn." But Kean's facial contortions threw the sentinel into such a fit of stage fright that he forgot most of his words, stammering, "Tis I, my lord, 'tis I, my lord; the—village clock." He repeated this three or four times, so that when Kean said, "Then why on earth don't you crow?" the audience was convulsed with laughter.

Something Wrong.
"Who shall I say is asking for him?" inquired central of the man in the booth.
"Mr. O'Conen."
"Mr. Who?"
"O'Conen."
"Wait a minute. The wires are crossed."
—New York Tribune.

Poetry.
"A famous educator says everybody ought to read a little poetry every day."
"I agree with him. If most people would read poetry every day perhaps there wouldn't be so many trying to write it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

In the Distant Future.
The dressmaking art will not have reached its highest degree of perfection until a woman can change her gown as quickly as she changes her mind.—Cleveland Leader.

Safer Than a Frame.
"My husband writes that he is bringing me back from Italy a pretty little Murilo! I've just bought a cage for it."—Paris Sourire.

Press On.
Ef yo' has got light enough ter see des ten steps ahead of yo' shake han's wid yo' set an' press on.—Atlanta Constitution.

NOTICE OF CONTEST.

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office.

North Platte, Nebraska, Nov. 17, 1913.

To Robert F. Campbell, address unknown, contestee.

You are hereby notified that John E. Kountz, who gives North Platte, Nebraska, as his post-office address, did on Oct. 26, 1912, file in this office his duly corroborated application to contest and secure the cancellation of your homestead entry No. 21453, Serial No. 6895, made September 12, 1905, for the whole of section 22, township 12, range 33, west of the Sixth Principal Meridian, and as grounds for his contest he alleges that George M. Campbell, the original entryman, was divorced from his wife when he made the above entry and that he died about a year subsequent to entry and prior to making final proof, leaving as his only heir Robert F. Campbell, then a minor but now of age; that said Robert F. Campbell has never made his residence upon said land and has never cultivated the same and has abandoned the same for more than three years last past.

You are, therefore, further notified that the said allegations will be taken as confessed, and your said entry will be cancelled without further right to be heard, either before this office or on appeal, if you fail to file in this office within twenty days after the fourth publication of this notice, as shown below, your answer, under oath, specifically responding to these allegations of contest, together with due proof that you have served a copy of your answer on said contestant either in person or by registered mail.

You should state in your answer the name of the postoffice to which you desire future notice to be sent to you.

IRA L. BARE, Receiver.
